My maternal grandparents came to the U.S. from Mexico in November of 1979 because they wanted to give their nine kids a better life. About two years later, my grandmother had my yougest aunt (She's the only one born in the U.S.).

My mom became a citizen at a very young age. My grandpa was a hard worker, and together with my uncles, they started a roofing business, which is very successful now!

Rachel

(California)