

My grandpa came to the United States to find work. He first came alone and saved money for a year and safely brought my grandma, my aunt, my uncle, and my mom to the United States. He left El Salvador because he could not find a job there during very hard times.

J.P., California